

Since 1938, the University of Saskatchewan has been delivering quality nursing education. Over the course of eight-and-a-half decades, the College of Nursing has seen significant changes.

So who are we today?

We are a College of Nursing educating the registered nurses, nurse practitioners, nurse leaders, and nurse scholars of tomorrow. We are also faculty conducting research and scholarship improving health-care for the future.

Here is a snapshot of who we are.

1,321
Students enrolled at end of 2023

1,053
Undergraduate students

268
Graduate students

15.4%
Self-declared
undergraduate Indigenous students

14.5%
Self-declared
graduate Indigenous students

50
Staff

347
Faculty

- Professors 10
- Associate Professors 11
- Associate Professor Academic Programming 4
- Assistant Professors 9
- Assistant Professor Academic Programming 1
- Lecturers 8
- Instructors 22
- Contract Instructors 282

7,000
Facebook
followers

2,430
Instagram
followers

3,165
X (Twitter)
followers

Number of undergraduate students per campus in 2023

Number of graduate students by program in 2023

268
Bachelor of Science in Nursing students graduated in 2023

63
Graduate students completed their programs in 2023

$3.1+ million
in total funding awarded across 84 active research grants held within the College of Nursing

$315,994
in student scholarships,
awards, and bursaries

